During the publication process, a footnote stating that authors Bruce R. Blazar and Steven Pavletic contributed equally to the study was inadvertently deleted. Under "Footnotes" on page 2289, the statement "B.R.B. and S.P. contributed equally to this study" should have been included. The publisher apologizes for the error, which has been corrected in the online version of the article.

In the print and PDF versions of the article, the last sentence of the abstract was truncated due to a typesetting error. The sentence should read "This finding constitutes a novel example of an epigenetic hit cooperating with a genetic hit in the pathogenesis of AML." In addition, the notation "(Blood. 2021;00(00):1-18)" should not have been present at the end of the abstract in the PDF version. The errors have been corrected in the online PDF version of the article.
